

Student Support Services Policy and Procedure

2. Procedure

Sarry Institute is committed to ensure that all students receive support (wherever required) to adjust to life and study in Australia. The learning and support need of all students is assessed upon entry into their course. Information to make this assessment is gathered through the information provided by the student on the application and/or enrolment forms, through LLN, discussion with the student during their induction/orientation to the course about how to access the support services. All support services information will be regularly reviewed to ensure it is current and accurate. Adequate academic and student support staff to student ratio would be maintained. Sarry Institute would ensure that high quality support and assistance is provided at all times and would maintain the following ratio:

- 1:15 Academic staff to student ratio for academic and language (LLN) support;
- 1:75 Student Support Services staff to student ratio.

In an event of any support sessions having student numbers exceeding the above-mentioned ratio for academic and language support, the support sessions will be divided into groups, with each group being allocated different support sessions, with no group exceeding 1:15 ratio. Additional trainers and assessors or language teachers will be sourced to ensure high quality support services are being provided to the students. The same strategy is applicable for the student Support Service staff also. If the number exceeds to the above specified ratio, addition support staff will be employed or contracted and have formal qualifications in counselling and/or relevant experience who is able to advise and provide counselling to students in an intercultural context about language, academic and future progressive advice and welfare matters.
